NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT, BENJAMIN HARRISON, OF Indiana.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, WHITELAW REID, OF New York.

FOR CONGRESS, DR. J. J. KIMBLEY.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For Circuit Judge.

TARIFF PICTURES.

According to Dr. Roland P. Falkner, the statistician of the Senate Finance Committee, the cost of living in Great Britain is 10.9 per cent as compared with 88.6 per cent in the United States, and wages you know, are less. How's that for free trade?

ANSWERING in our State Legislature should not be tolerated. There has been too much of it already for the State's good.

TAMMANY threatens to hold a ratification this month, and it has been arranged that Senator Hill shall make the opening speech.

KENTUCKY has a State Legislature in session, but what is it doing? What can it do with nearly one-half its members scattered over the State.

DAVID B. HILL may still be a good Democrat, but since the Chicago convention and the nomination of Cleveland he hasn't insisted that he is.

HON. TOM PETTIT is in hard luck. He wants to be elected to Congress, but it is a matter of him to give up the five-dollar-a-job he already has in order to make his canvass.

PUBLIC opinion in Tennessee is practically unanimous in giving utterance to the opinion that the ring-leaders of the labor riots in East Tennessee should be punished with the utmost rigor of the law.

EX-GOV. CAMPBELL, of Ohio, has hopes that the Democrats will carry New York in November. He had great hopes of defeating McGinkley, too, in Ohio, last year. It won't be for his party to rely too much upon Mr. Campbell, and what he says.

CHOLERA is abroad in this land. Europe it abounds to a alarming extent. It is a matter of possibility to keep in entirely out of this country, but extreme measures will be taken to prevent its spread. The authorities are already on guard.

OVER $18,000,000 has been expended upon the great World's Fair. This will be very much larger than any sum ever expended upon any Exposition or World's Fair. But we have the greatest country in the world and can afford to have the greatest show on earth.

The heat in Europe has been phenomenal. Sunstrokes have been numerous in Paris and the hospitals are made full of patients. In Vienna, the mercury was 101 in the shade, Trieste, 110 and about the same temperature existed at Berlin, Venice and other prominent places.

SOMEONE is responsible for the unfortunate condition of things at Frankfurt. The tax payers naturally want to know upon whom this blame should rest. This is a sort of a sense between the governor and the legislature, and may be conducted for weeks yet without a single interruption.

The Republicans of Ontario, in Webster county, are neither dead of sleeping. The had a lively meeting one day last week and were addressed by W. E. Harrison, of Dixon. Mr. Harrison's speech was eloquent and strong, and his friends were delighted. If any Republican club desires a compact address of the true metal, let us advise them to call Mr. Harrison.

THE greatest caution and vigilance will be required to prevent the introduction of cholera into this country. The disease exists in epidemic form in Hamburg, Antwerp and other ports, which have close commercial relations with us. A few cases are reported in London. Our medical boards are suggesting sanitary measures, but strict quarantine will be maintained against the infected countries.

HON. GEO. H. TOWERS, of Dixon, has been doing excellent campaign work. He has a happy way of reaching the plain people, and presenting the issues of the day in such a manner that they can understand them. He has lately been in Union county, and friends inform us that his speech at Morganfield was his best effort. When he comes to this county we advise all to hear him, and they will be amply repaid.

THE Congressional race in this district is between Capt. Ellis, the Democratic nominee, and Dr. Kimbley, the Republican nominee. The man who disputes it is ignorant of the situation. Every vote polled for Mr. Pettit is an indirect vote in favor of Kimbley. This cannot be denied by any gentleman of the Third district who will give the situation a sober thought.

If Mr. Pettit succeeds in drawing away from the Democratic party one-half that is claimed by him Kimbley will represent this district in the next Congress. There is no use in mincing words or dodging behind the bush. We all know the very small majority Gov. Brown received over a competitor unknown and hailing from the State of Ohio. Dr. Kimbley lives in an adjoining county, is a good speaker, personally very popular, rich and as full of fighting energy as Mr. Ellis. Mr. Pettit or the best politician in the land. He has his loved ones, never tires and is going to win if it is in the cards for him to do so.—HENDERSON GLEANER.

On every hand, we hear the new Constitution of Kentucky denounced as immature, unsatisfactory, constitutive, ambiguous, and so on, for quantity and quality. It is recorded somewhere in those wonderfully and fearfully constructed notes, entitled "Debates of the Constitutional Convention," that a delegate said "yes," in response to an inquiry, if he would abjure the Legislature had the authority to do so. This idea that the legislative department is a necessary evil, under our form of government, pervades the entire document. The debates of the Convention, and the Constitution, when construed in the light of those debates, clearly indicate that the Convention had no conception in the ability, patriotism or integrity of the average General Assembly. The Constitution so hampers legislation, and places so many obstructions in the way of prompt action, that it is a public nuisance, when this fact is considered, in connection with the limitation of the length of a legislative session, it is easy to believe that all that has been charged against the Constitution on this subject.—FRANKFORT CAPITAL.

The action of the miners at Coal Creek, in resisting legal authority, cannot meet the approval of law-abiding people. Yet there is much in their cause to excite both friendship and sympathy. The laws of Tennessee, which authorize the leasing of her convicts, and their employment on the prison farms, are not in keeping with our advancing civilization. It is a policy that has no argument in its favor except of profit in dollars and cents. The laboring class, who depend upon the prison for a living, feel dishonored. To be placed side by side with felons and thieves, and their wages reduced to the paltry sum paid for convict labor. Aside from these objections, society demands that convicts should be kept within the prison walls and not be brought into open contact with law abiding people. The public sentiment and moral sense of the good citizens of Tennessee have been quickened by the recent revolution, and they will uphold the State in suppressing resistance to legal authority, will demand the appeal of the odious laws which have been the cause of so much strife.

It is significantly creditable that so many intelligent women are earnestly engaged in the campaign organization for the success of the Republican national ticket. Women are just as much interested in good government as men, and they are fully entitled to take part in political questions affecting governmental policies in the masculine sex. In conservative England educated women have long exercised a powerful influence in political campaigns. Ladies of the highest rank and the most thorough culture do not think it beneath them to conduct a political canvass or to address numerous blagues of voters from the public platform; and they are regarded as highly important factors in electoral contests by the leaders of both the great parties. American women may yet follow the examples of their English counterparts in this respect. The knowledge they will gain will not be in vain, for it will impart their womanliness, while their participation in politics would tend to increase the amenities of partizan warfare and would accomplish valuable results in enabling them to judge intelligently of the good to matters that are of vital importance to all citizens of the United States, regardless of sex. It is natural that the sympathies of the best portion of American womanhood should be with the Republican party. In the prosperity of the home and the school every true woman is intensely interested; and the Republican party is emphatically the party of the home and the school. The policy of that party, carried out in face of bitter Democratic opposition, threw open the West to settlement on the most favorable terms to the pioneer, and established throughout that great region a new empire. Third, the party of the Republican party is strong schoolhouses abroad, Republicanism and popular education go hand in hand. As the special champion of order, morality and enlightenment, the Republican party demands the support of the good women of America. In its economic policy the Republican party appeals to us more strongly to women. It is a cardinal principle of Republicanism that the American citizen, every American workman should be maintained at a point which will enable him to house his family well, to make ample provision for the education of his children and to support his loved ones, never forsaking them in their old age. The efforts unknown among the toiling masses of Europe. Republicanism would make every man a king in his own house, every woman a queen in her own home. That is the aim of the Republican party, and so many women who are hoping and working for Republican success.—NEW YORK PRESS.

HENDERSON REPUBLICANS.

The Harrison Protective League Endorse Dr. J. H. Kimbley and is Ready for Work.

HENDERSON, Ky., Aug. 24, '02.

Editors of The Lexington Bee: Gentlemen—Enclosed you will find a copy of resolutions unanimously adopted at a meeting of the Harrison Protective League, last night, with a request that they be published in your paper, that the Republicans throughout the District may know that in Henderson the party is thoroughly aroused and prepared to do its full duty.

Yours very truly,

R. W. BALL, Sec. Harrison Protective League.

Be it Resolved, That the Harrison Protective League endorse the action of the Second District Republican Congressional Committee in nominating a candidate for Congress in this district, and that the League hereby pledges the support of its members to the candidacy of the nominee, and congratulates the Republican party of this district that in the person of Mr. J. F. Kimbley, who on the field of war demonstrated his loyalty to his country, and in civil life has shown his devotion to the glorious principles of Republicanism.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished Mr. J. F. Kimbley, and that they be published in the Republican press of the district.

Defenses Cannot be Carried by local applications as they cannot reach the masses of the people. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is a constitutional ailment. Deafness is a disease of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a ringing sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, deafness is permanent, unless cases out of the case are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammation of the middle ear.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured. Write to J. F. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists.

DAWSON SPRINGS.

Dawson, Aug. 30, 1902.

Mr. Editor: In looking over the hotel register at the arrivals for the past year, I find your name often on same, and having read your valuable paper many times and not having had the pleasure of an introduction to you, I introduce myself by writing you this letter, to make public if you see fit. I am a resident of Cairo, Ill., for the past 37 years. Four years ago I was afflicted with dropsy, and losing the use of the wonderful waters of Dawson, came here and in about four months was permanently cured, being treated so kindly by the proprietors and Manager F. H. of the Arcadia. I became so thankful and attached to them, the springs and Hotel Arcadia, that I come here yearly for recreation and pleasure, and to see my old friends. This time I miss the presence of the late J. W. Pritchett, which puts the double task upon Friend Holeman, an entertaining me, and royally well does he do it, having so much to attend to, having the "eloc" responsibility of the fair, and as he is house upon his hands. He is a gentleman of sterling worth. He is both a fatherly and motherly care for all children and young folks entrusted to his care, a guardian and a friend. I am sure that in writing I cannot say too much for this gentleman or his moral work. The Arcadia, under his management, is gaining in popularity—every room, at the present time, occupied, and more guests arrive on every train, and as he says to-day, he will soon have to pack his guests. I will have to make a move and take a smaller room. The house is being run very smooth—not a word of complaint from the guests. The table is bountifully supplied and the guests waited upon with rapidity. Everything about the house is clean and neat. Having been a hotel keeper and restaurant owner, I know where I speak, and I must say that the worthy landlord here deserves much credit for his devotion and untiring efforts to please his patrons. To show the popularity of the Arcadia and its manager, I would cite you to the fact that there is not a dozen guests at Crittenden Springs, and only one man and his daughter at Dixon, etc. The old Arcadia, as heretofore, is the place where the people close, before its doors are shut for this season. There has been about fifty Carriers here this season, being a large increase over former years. There are delegates here from Henderson, Shelbyville, and other places, and Evanville. Carriers here now are nine in number, all enjoying themselves to their hearts content.

I had the pleasure, the other day, of meeting Mr. John B. Atkinson, the associate editor of Mr. Holeman, a resident of your town. I was much impressed with him, and have named him the "Coal King of Kentucky" in my correspondence to Cairo, Ill.

John Holeman, the proprietor of Dawson, to have the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with me, and not knowing whether these few lines will be agreeable to your acceptance, I will close, leaving nothing to do but to wait for a response, and with- out further paper for past time, I inform people in general of the worth of the wonderful and God-giving waters. Yours truly,

H. WINTER.

Chills and Fevers.

Topical section of the liver is usually the cause of chills and fevers. Calomel irritates the liver and induces temporary relief. Cassell's German Liver Powder stimulates the action of the liver by hygienic strength, and also acts on the lower bowels, expelling fecal accumulations. A cure accomplished by this treatment is permanent. The best way to cure chills and fevers is permanent. This can be done by taking German Liver Powder every few days during the malarial season, or whenever you feel bilious. Price 50c per bottle at Robinson Drug Store.

It isn't the man who often breaks his word who is the best authority on parts of speech.

Literary Note.

Hon. J. S. Smith, editor of the Times, has been elected as editorial September number a thought in connection with the Hon. W. C. P. Brockbridge's invitation to make the opening address of the Columbus Exposition at Chicago, which should appeal most forcibly to the fair-minded supporters of a material life as well as to the spiritual.

"Miss Budd is a very sharp girl."

"Yes, indeed. I guess that is why she cuts so many of her acquaintances."

Talk of the Town.

The wonderful sailor Yucca Calli Tente. The reason for all this is it has been taken according to directions and its place taken. Children do not object to take it. They like the first dose. Don't take any antidote. Price 50c. Warned at Robinson Drug Store.

BEGAN YESTERDAY.

THE HOPKINS COUNTY FAIR BEGINS TODAY FAVORABLE ADVANCE.

You Should Attend This Fair This Year in Order to Have an Adequate Idea of its Importance.

It will perhaps be profitable as well as interesting to those who take a pride in our country, and enter- tained by the highest aims of our citizens and the advancement of the county's progress. The management promises a program to eclipse all predecessors.

The exhibitors are said to be unique and characteristic of the county's progress. The management promises a program to eclipse all predecessors.

The exhibitors have given more time and attention to this important event than is customary for business men to devote to such enterprises. This has been an arduous undertaking, and let us congratulate ourselves upon having secured such an organization of strength, coherency and intelligence to promote this important work.

It is assumed that the net proceeds will go toward improving the property. This is an important reason why you should be present and aid toward making the Fair a brilliant success. With improved grounds, an increased number of exhibit buildings and more inviting premiums, we hope that next year the company will be enabled to offer unprecedented attractions.

While we can only accept of it, give in this brief article, a profuse illustrated and descriptive account of the Fair, we will, however, attempt to give an abbreviated program of to-day's races.
